Leaner Equals Lighter As a general rule, the leaner the red meat you are matching, the lighter the red wine you should choose. A rich cut, such as prime rib, will pair nicely with a bold and high tannin red wine such as Cabernet Sauvignon. Likewise pork, duck, and lighter dishes might pair better with a Pinot Noir.

What to Pair with White Spicier foods often pair in contrast best with more flavorful white wines like Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Grigio, Moscato and Resiling. Likewise less spicy seafood such as fish, shrimp, and other shellfish along with chicken often pair best with a Chardonnay.
